

Prof. Lena Kjellén has a PhD from Uppsala University in medical chemistry.

Her area of research is heparan sulfate proteoglycans where she has studied both their biosynthesis and more functional aspects.

During recent years she has generated and utilised mice deficient in heparan sulfate biosynthesis enzymes for her studies.

Since 2001 she is professor in medical glycobiology at Uppsala University where she moved from the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences.

Homepage: <http://www.imbim.uu.se/forskning/kjellenresearch.html>